Grass Lake School A Loser At Polls

The two-part referendum package proposal to the voters by the Grass Lake School Board was defeated on Saturday June 3rd.

Turnout was described as "light" in this the districts third attempt to enlarge their school plant.

The first portion of the proposition: a $295,000 building addition was defeated by a 160-108 count. The addition would have increased classroom space by 50 per cent, and added library, art and science areas.

The second part, which would have raised the school's Building Fund tax rate by $.30, from $.25 to $.55 per $100 of assessed valuation lost by a vote of 178 to 85. The measure would have enlarged the budget from $ 19,936 to $43,860.52.

Defeat of the dual proposal has produced a lot of "ifs" according to District Superintendent William Hart. "I don't think we have much of a choice. There must be provision made for the growth of the community."

Hart had earlier estimated the school's enrollment would balloon from the present 330 to 450 students within a span of two or three years. He listed the average yearly growth as between 8 and 10 percent.

Hart named the effects of the defeat as being overcrowding and increased teaching loads. "Our main concern, however is classroom space." He said classes designed to accommodate 30 students are already overcrowded with as many as 39 to 40 in some.

According to Hart the District Board will meet on Tuesday, June 13th to canvass the votes and map out strategy following defeat of the two proposals.

More Housing Arises Pheasant Creek Development

According to data from the Lake County Planning Commission and the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission, Lake County is destined to sustain a projected population growth of between 400,000 and 650,000 persons by the turn of the century.

Regardless of whom you prefer to believe, the building boom will soon be felt by many Lake County residents. The prospect of managing such an unwieldy number of new citizens has not endeared developers in the hearts of many present home owners, but the trend is irreversible, according to officials of the Lake County Planning Agency.

Stories carried by this publication, have in the last few weeks centered on such developments. One, the Antioch Country Club, has already gone through a Zoning Board of Appeals hearing. Two others, both in Lindenhurst, are in the planning stages and have received little publicity.

Recently, data on a fourth such development was learned. This project has been in the planning stages for more than a year and seemingly is content in its obscurity.

This development, owned by a group of Village professionals, among them several doctors, would occupy a 32 acre site northwest of the village.

Given the name Pheasant Creek, the project would produce as many as 484 units with a possible projected population of 1200 persons.

The units would be contained in 22 high rise apartment buildings with 22 apartments per building. There are no facts readily available on the cost, or rent of the units, but sources listed them as being of moderate price.

The parcel of land which would house the development was granted both annexation and multiple use zoning status (R-5) by a May 17, 1971 ruling of the Antioch Village Board of Trustees.

Because of the annexation, the Pheasant Creek project will have the right to hook-up to the village sewage treatment plant and will not have to bear the burden of building their own plant. The village plant is destined for an addition, from 7,000 to 19,500 person capacity, in the near future.

This factor, plus the cost of providing lift stations and a line to the sanitary sewers may be some of the causes for the developments late start in construction.

Members of the Lake County Plan Commission feel the complex could provide a positive effect on Village growth. If the apartments are in low or moderate price range they could provide a base for a labor force, first step in attracting new industry.

The planners felt that many villages had, in fact, "cut their own throats" by setting building square foot requirements too high. The high price of the building and spiraling construction costs then became a hindrance to drawing industry, a critical growth factor.

New Policies For Police

Diving into his task with characteristic relish, newly named police chief, Jack Wells, came to his first day in office armed with a fistful of new programs and policies intended to upgrade the village department.

The chief elaborated on the policies, saying "most of them are procedures the force has always followed, but unless you have them written down they don't mean much."

The new policies, 35 in number, in general deal with routine police procedures and have been approved by the village board and police committee. However, included are several sweeping innovations.

Wells has apparently done extensive "legwork" prior to assuming office on June 1st. The changes give a hint of his lengthy association with the State Police and its regimen for thoroughness

Recently codified procedures include matters regarding arrest, detention and police reports. New for the force will be a cautionary warning on defensive driving.

Wells noted that recent Supreme Court rulings have made it mandatory to follow written procedure scrupulously. "Many cases could be thrown out of court on technicalities," he said, "unless these rules are religiously observed."

In addition to previously established guidelines, Wells listed innovations aimed at improving discipline and

Few Attend Referendum Briefing

In what was termed by many a "poor turnout", approximately 40 to 50 people attended a briefing on the troubled condition of the Antioch Grade School District. Many more had been expected.

The meeting was held to gauge support and enthusiasm for a possible referendum to restore the many cuts made in the district budget. If support can be measured, purely by numbers, the Board may have its hands full.

The meeting was called by the special "Committee of 8", made up of two lay representatives from the district's four schools. The group has attempted to coordinate dialogue between parents and the school board.

Committee member Cliff Houghton said "it is disheartening that there weren't many there." The meeting had been publicized, he said both in the newspapers and through two school handouts, but still the public failed to appear. He did mention that those present, even in their small numbers, appeared interested and committed.

Houghton later urged the school board to take more action. "The board has to provide the impetus," he said.

Commenting on the situation, District Superintendent Henry Meyer said it was premature to say anything until they receive word for the committee. "Until then it's just hearsay."

The Board will meet next on Tuesday, June 13, at which time the matter may be discussed.

The Open House for Al Dittman on Sunday prior to graduation was a huge success. Along with the sunny weather went the "sunny" smiles of both Mr. and Mrs. Dittman. Also helping the Dittmans celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rouse from Grayslake, Mr. Forehend, Round Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hanke from Moosehart. (Staff Photo) strengthening the local force. They would include the right for the chief to suspend members of the force for a period not to exceed 30 days. The suspension would not require Police Committee approval.

Wells said that the suspensions, should they occur, would probably be of short duration. He felt the force could be run effectively without the red tape of the Police Committee. He added that anyone being suspended would have a hearing.

In his most sweeping proposal, Wells outlined plans for re-issuance of special badges. Many badges, shields and stars are circulating, but are not legal, according to the chief.

Plans would include a recall of all such police paraphernalia, an evaluation and re-issue according to merit, not special privilege.

Disaster personnel, nurses and police auxiliary would be authorized to carry the badges. Their names and time put in would be kept on a ledger on display at the station house.

Wells said that some time in the near future he would issue a call for return of the symbols. A grace period of approximately 30 days would follow. If the badges were not returned and an attempt was made to use them, the subjects would be subject to possible arrest on police impersonation charges.

Summing up the new programs, Wells said he had the backing and full cooperation of the Village Board. "If I didn't have it," he said, the new policies "wouldn't be worth the paper they're written on."

Mini-Bikes Safety And The Law

The summer months are again upon us and bring with them all the joys, but also all the problems that warm weather means.

However, added to the usual problems a new and potentially more serious hazard has made its appearance, the mini-bike.

Mini-bikes for those not well versed on the subject, are those little sawed-off motorcycles so popular with the under 15 set.

The hazard - their low profile and mobility make them practically invisible behind parked cars, hedges, garbage cans or anything else three feet tall. The riders joy can easily become the parents tragedy when they thoughtlessly dart out into traffic.

A 95 pound rider and mini-bike are not much of a match for a two ton automobile, traveling even at a low rate of speed.

If the thought of injury or perhaps even death of a mini-bike rider is not enough to persuade parents to regulate the activities of their child riders, the law will.

The Law - according to the Illinois Motor Vehicle code the mini-bike is an unlicensed motor vehicle and may not be operated on or along streets, thoroughfares or highways. The driver is also unlicensed (being under 16) and may not operate the bike, except on private property with permission.

In order to provide for the safety and welfare of those children who are not, or will not be, regulated by their parents, the Antioch Police Department will follow a policy to protect them.

The policy will be to observe the riders stop them and confront the parents. The rider is unlicensed, unlawful and uninsured. The parents will be issued a citation for giving permission to an unlawful driver to operate a motor vehicle owned by them. Because the driver is uninsured, the parent, not the child will be prosecuted. The law provides that in such cases the parent will have his license revoked.

The answer - These policies are being carried out not as a vendetta, but as a means of protecting the life and well being of the children. Parents, if you are not moved by the safety of your children, we pity you. However, the law will provide for their safety.

Your Vote - Bigger Than You Think

During these days of primaries and referendums, the thought must occasionally come to mind "just how much could my vote possibly mean?"

For the concerned voter the magnitude of sheer numbers is intimidating; for the apathetic it is a convenient "out". However, single votes have made the difference in many elections. The pages of history are filled with poignant examples of the importance of what many consider their inconsequential ballot.

1783 - During the American Revolution, anti-British sentiment was so high that a bill was presented in the Continental Congress to abolish English as the official language and adopt German; the bill was defeated by ONE VOTE.

1800 - Thomas Jefferson was elected President by ONE VOTE in the House of Representatives. Adams had only 30.5% of the popular vote, while Andrew Jackson had 43%.

1846 - War was declared on Mexico by a ONE VOTE margin in the U.S. Senate.

1876 - Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President by ONE electoral vote (185 to 184); Hayes' opponent had the greater popular vote.

1923 - Adolf Hitler was elected the leader of the "silly little Nazi Party" in a Munich beer hall; margin of victory - ONE VOTE.

1963 - A candidate for councilman in a Cincinnati suburb was hospitalized for an emergency appendectomy; unable to go to the polls, he lost the election by ONE VOTE.

We of the ANTIOCH NEWS feel these incidents both striking and relevant. While one vote may not appear very significant, it can, and has decided the fate of issues and started trends that proved irreversible..

We strongly urge all citizens to exercise their right to vote. As in the above example, it could prove the deciding margin.

Our Congressman

Delegate To World Environment Conference

Congressman Robert McClory is one of three members of the U.S. House of Representatives who will serve as delegates to the U. N. Conference on the Human Environment taking place in Stockholm, Sweden, from June 5 to 16. The 35 member U. S. delegation, headed by Russell E. Train, Chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality, includes such prominent figures as Illinois Attorney General William Scott, Assistant Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Jr., U. N. Delegate Shirley Temple Black, Senators Howard Baker of Tennessee, James Buckley of New York, and Warren Magnuson of Washington.

Congressman McClory has been assigned to the Committee on 'Human Settlements' which will take up the international aspects of population growth and movement as well as regional developments and the multiple problems resulting from urbanization.

The Stockholm Conference is the first major international effort dealing with environmental problems. A total of 1,200 delegates, representing 100 nations, are expected to participate. The conference has been in preparation for the past four years under the direction of Maurice F. Strong of Canada.

Before departing for Stockholm, Congressman McClory declared:

"The grave international threat to the human environment calls for prompt cooperation between all of the nations of the world by sharing information and know-how and other joint actions and arrangements. We can make a substantial start toward a world program to protect and enhance environmental conditions which are essential to human life. In addition to learning a great deal from other delegates, I hope to make a personal contribution at the U. N. Conference."

PUBLIC EDUCATION

The opportunity for a public education is the legal right of every school-age child, not just the bright, or the not-so-bright, but every school-age child. Along with this right goes the legal responsibility of the State to provide this opportunity.

However, in fulfilling its responsibility, the State of Illinois provides less than one-half of the money necessary to operate the public schools. This of course means that the remainder of the necessary support must be provided by us, the taxpayers.

A successful tax referendum would place another burden on these taxpayers, but its defeat would place a much greater liability on the students of our community. Therefore, if we really believe the kids deserve the opportunity for an education, we recognize our responsibility by voting yes on the Antioch Community High School tax referendum June 10, 1972.

BOND ISSUE

There has been so much controversy about the High School Bond Issue that I would like to add my 2 cents worth. Let me start off by saying that my first reaction to anything that will increase my taxes is NO! I don't agree with the School Board or the School Administration on many things, but during discussion about the whole issue in our home we reversed our Original stand and decided to vote YES instead of no.

In our case anyway, I feel they have missed the biggest selling point of all in getting the needs across to the public. Following is my line of reasoning:

1. It has been about 15 years since the last educational rate increase. In these times, that smacks of darn good and conservative management. During this time the program has been expanded and the enrollment has at least doubled.

2. People think there are problems with teen-agers (how I hate that word and what it brings to most peoples' minds), now - WAIT! There are about three different groups of young people; The ones that will be in trouble no matter what is offered to them, in school or out, the ones that join everything and are brains and don't have time for trouble. Then there is the middle group, who participate in some activities and attend most of whichever sporting event they find the most interesting. What is going to happen when 2/3 more of these young people are turned loose on the streets earlier in the afternoon, because of shortened schedules, for economy's sake, and in the evenings? Out of boredom and lack of things to do there is going to be a lot more problems. There are not enough jobs around for all of these students. Some have no need to work as everything is supplied them or their parents don't want them to work, or they lack transportation to get and keep a job.

3. Expecting some teachers to double up their classes is going to be too much. Mainly in the Music Department, as that requires many and consistent practices besides a demanding daytime schedule. Without sports some teachers will be let go because there will be no need for them.

Since we bought our home, our taxes have more than doubled in seven years. I should care, because the last of my three children will be graduating next year. But I do care. Mine received all the advantages of the so-called fringe benefits, why shouldn't others? I do not consider Art, Music or Athletics, fringe benefits. Nowadays everything is rush, even in our small town. The kids hear college from grade school on, and study, make the Honor Roll! GO TO COLLEGE! A lot of people are in college that don't belong there and do nothing with the education when they get out. If they have the drive and want to get ahead, they will. This comes from within. A few will be helped by a little pushing.

Not all the poor students are the trouble makers. Many poor students are good with their hands and natural born workers and are miserable in school from kindergarten on. Many good students that make the Honor Roll are real devils and in on many of the things that go on but never seem to get caught. Many that don't fit in as joiners or brains or athletes are harassed by the trouble makers. Many of these trouble makers are very intelligent, but lack discipline and their brains turn to stirring up devilment.

Anyway, June 10, think hard before you mark that ballot! Most of us could scrape up the extra dollars over the year. It would be better spent on this issue than on liquor or whatever is your personal vice.

My Mother has paid taxes out here for over 50 years and in Chicago too. I was an only child. Maybe she didn't get her money's worth personally, but during the depression she might not have been able to afford to send me to school at all. These are the people that are really hard hit, the elderly on a fixed income.

My husband has no tenure in his position, no striking option, and we are not rich, but neither are we poor enough to qualify for any kind of aid when things go badly with our finances. We have had a bad four years medically and are cutting corners like mad, but I'm sure we'll start breaking even some day, provided we don't have a lot of property damage done by the hundreds of extra students running the streets that will join the destructive ones and drag racers.

Fifteen years without an increase is a long time in these days of rising costs. THINK ABOUT IT! Good conservative management did it.

Yours truly,
Mrs. James A. Good

After Raising A Family, She Is Involved

To see William and Lillie Petty today, one can almost picture the scene some 50 years ago when William came to Douglas County, Illinois, to be the principal of the elementary school where he met Lillie who was a young teacher in the three-teacher school.

Within three years the young couple had married and moved to Grayslake where Bill would serve as the new principal of the Grayslake Elementary School, soon to become the Superintendent of Elementary Schools in Antioch.

Forty-five years later, her husband now retired, Lillie Petty sits in her cozy home on Spafford Street, the home that she and William built when he became Superintendent of Schools for Lake County in 1931. Here they have raised three sons, now married.

Still the phone rings often and anxiously, calling this petite woman, so enthusiastic about life, to the many community activities she's developed an interest in over the years.

"But my family always comes first," stresses Lillie Petty, "I only became involved in these activities after my children were grown."

However, as this "young-married" celebrated her 49th wedding anniversary last week, she finds ample time to serve friends, town, church and her political party.

An avid reader Mrs. Petty was part of the seven member Antioch Township Library Board responsible for the library building program which will be an asset to the community for many years.

Also related to her love of reading, Lillie Petty is known throughout the area for her book reviews. "I just enjoy reading" she says. And others have undoubtedly shared her enthusiasm after hearing her reviews of biographies and historical novels.

The Woman in Politics

"The politicians and church people should work together," emphasizes the past president of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Antioch Methodist Church and a member of the Board of Governors of the Lake County Republican Federation.

There must be cooperation between these two forces of our lives as Mrs. Petty sees it. "We must still keep church and state separated," she says, "but we can't separate our lives...after all, if church people don't help elect these officers, where are we going to be?"

Invited to Inauguration

One point of interest in a home where plaques and mementoes cry out tenderly with voices of yesterday's children, today's adults who have known the service of her husband in our area schools, one remembrance is clearly the pride of the "politician side" of Mrs. W.C. Petty. Framed is the invitation to the 1968 presidential inauguration sent to Mrs. Lillie Petty for her work as treasurer of the Voters for Nixon in Lake County during the 1968 campaign. At the present time Mrs.

Petty is also a board member of this district Women's Republican Club and Governor Ogilvie's Council.

Aids Students

While not herself a college graduate, Lillie Petty has indirectly helped many students through college. About fifteen years ago, when the Illinois Scholarship Commission was formed, Mrs. Petty was appointed by Governor Stratton to work on the board which sets up programs and policies. She served on the board for seven years.

Liberated Women?

Each photograph and souvenir housing a memory, this 45 year resident of Antioch is surrounded by memories of a life filled with activities and people for whom she has deeply cared.

What does such a woman think of today's Women's Liberation Movement?

Working on many commissions with men and following the political life of her husband for 40 years, Mrs. Petty still views the Women's Lib Movement with a skeptical eye.

"I'm not for Women's Lib as it's set up now...I want women to stay feminine and men to stay masculine. There are some places where women have no place." While women receive a different slant on many issues making their opinions and ideas valuable, posts of most importance must be left to men.

While women may be qualified and capable, the President of the United States is a man's position, decides Mrs. W.C. Petty after little deliberation. Will a woman be president someday anyway, since women are pushing so hard?

"I hope not. We can look up to a man," she says. "It's a man's position." And Lillie Petty is a woman content to let a man take that place.

Freedom in Education

"I don't approve-period!" declares Lillie Petty on the new educational freedom in our schools. "We have to change; we're in a changing world," but children can have too much freedom. "And I don't think students like it either," says the experienced voice of a grandmother of eight. Children are not machines, but total freedom is not the answer to teaching children to be individuals.

Just where does the 40-year member of the Eastern Star and past president of the Antioch Woman's Club place herself on the woman-mother continuum? Talking to this most exuberant and interesting person, one cannot help but say that she is, as she says, a mother before all else. Always stressed in talking of her many "extracurriculars" is the fact that prior to the maturation of her children she was not the active politician and community worker who is always busy today.

Lillie Petty has had a hectic life as the wife of the Superintendent of Schools. "I haven't worked in the office, but I've certainly been involved," says this queen of her home.

"I'm always in the background," says Lillie Petty, the wife, mother and loving devotee to her fellow man, but as her husband says, the real

Lillie Petty can only be found by talking to those with whom she has worked in her many activities. She is, as he says and as those who know her agree, herself, "a kind of community service."

House Bill Would Consolidate All Elections

The Illinois House has passed and sent on to the Senate, legislation that would consolidate all elections held in the state.

Under its provisions, House Bill 4531 would make various amendments to the election code and provides that all elections shall be held on either the first Tuesday after the first Monday of May or the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November.

There would be no exemptions to this provision and the bill would require that special elections, as well as all other elections, be held at the same time.

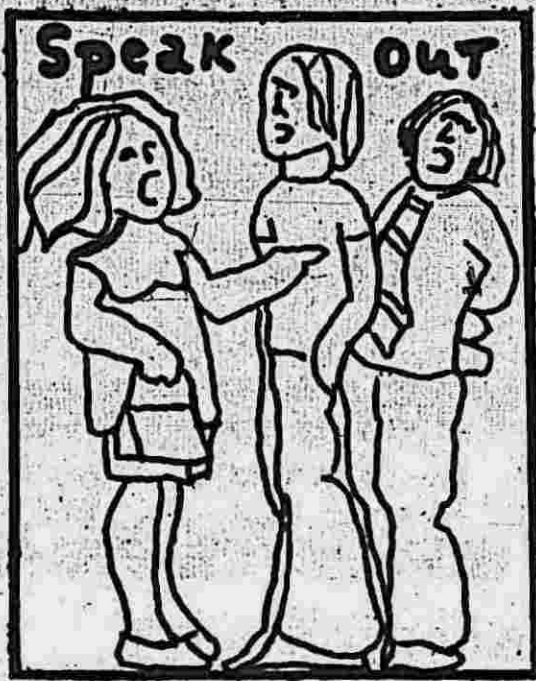

Primaries would thus be held on the May date for offices to be elected in November.

The effect of the bill would be that all elections for bond approval and for any referendum would be required to be held at the time of the general election in November. The act would also override any provision of the Municipal Code which would allow one election at any time other than in May or November.

When I asked this week's question, I received answers from mostly older people. If anyone younger would like to make a contribution, please write to SPEAK OUT c/o The Antioch News, and I will publish your opinion. This week's question is:

DO YOU THINK MORALS HAVE CHANGED SINCE YOU WERE IN SCHOOL? IN WHAT WAYS?

MRS. ANN KRIEGER, of Antioch, states, "Yes, I think they are much worse. I think people say and do things nowadays that years ago were more closemouthed. Also publicity and conversation wise, people are more open today, which makes morals more broad."

MR. HENRY RENTNER, of Antioch, said, "I don't really think they have. They are a little bit pronounced now, but they haven't changed. I don't think it is good to be so outspoken. I does not keep the mind as clean as it should be."

MR. H. GILLMAN, of Antioch, answered, "Yes, I do. That is going back before the '20's, but I do. When we went to school we had the 3 R's. Reading, 'Riting, and 'Rithmetic. At school now they are teaching too much sex, and I don't think it is right. If they are going to teach sex, they should separate the boys and the girls. If they are sitting next to each other, it is an uncomfortable feeling, I imagine, to them. I think there is too much freedom in the schools. The girls and boys are both too much together in school. The only freedom we had when we went to school was gymnastics. I think sex is too damn open. Both the boys and the girls are too bold and forward now. Clothing is another thing. I think the girls dresses should come down to a decent length. We have a granddaughter, I don't let her dress that way. She either wears slacks or dresses pretty well down to her knee. Like they say, "Times have changed." Girls were a lot more respected then. Men too."

MRS. CARROL SWANSON, of Antioch, replied, "Definitely. Parents were more strict and kept us in line. We didn't have to deal with the dope situation. In fact, children have too much liberty now. They don't have enough to do around the house. If a parent would give their children things to do around the house, they'd turn out better. It's all in the home. You don't have the abuse then, but you can talk to them and reason with them. Every child is different. Some you have to use the rod, some you have to take away their privileges, some you have to talk to. I have had no big problems with my children. Another thing that makes it hard is seeing both parents work. The child comes home to an empty house. You are not there to greet them. It is not the parents' fault in some cases.

Kids also get too much money now. They are not satisfied. You give a small child a nickel now, and he looks at you like you're stupid."

Last week Mr. Howard Spittle stated he didn't like collars. It was supposed to read he didn't like big collars. GOOD LUCK, GRADUATES!

Peacetill next week

Final Referendum Appearances For Board

The A.C.H.S. Board, this week, will make a last ditch attempt to brief voters on their perilous financial condition when they hold a series of informative meetings regarding their June 10 referendum. The group will hold informal "coffee klatches" at two area homes, appear before one woman's club and speak over a local radio station.

The scheduled meetings are part of a series of appearances which the Board hopes will induce apathetic voters to turn out and pass their Saturday referendum. The school district is currently more than $650,000 in debt due to a low taxing rate.

DRIVERS' TESTING

Springfield, Ill., June 2-Secretary of State John W. Lewis announced today that behind the wheel driver testing will be conducted in Lake County District No. 17 in Libertyville at 929 North Milwaukee, and in Waukegan at 2712 Grand each Wednesday during daylight evening hours, effective June 14.

The three off-the-road lighted testing facilities in Chicago, which serve more than three million drivers, have been kept open until 10 p.m. each evening since March 6. This has been a tremendous help to those persons who are employed during the day and who would otherwise have to take a day off from their work to have their license renewed.

Remember When?

The "Remember When" picture above, submitted by Paul Ferris, is the 3rd or 4th grade class of Antioch Grade School in 1899 or 1900.

The photo was taken on Valentine's Day in the three room school which then had its front entrance on Depot Street.

The teacher is Miss Anna T. Butler who lived in the William Westlake home where the Ben Franklin now stands.

Mr. Ferris, who will celebrate his 81st birthday in October, remembers many of his classmates:

Gordon Wells identifies three of those pictured in the May 24th "Remember When" photo. In the first row, left or right,

Jaycees Highway Holdup

On Saturday, June 3rd, the Antioch Jaycees conducted a highway hold-up in the downtown area. The purpose of the hold-up was to provide funds to enable the Jaycees to take 50 needy children from the Antioch area to see a Cubs baseball game. Tom Conroy, chairman of the event, reported that the hold-up proved very successful and wished to extend his thanks to the people of Antioch for their generosity and understanding. Tom apologized for any inconvenience suffered by anyone due to the delay in traffic and expressed his gratitude to Police Chief Jack Wells for his cooperation. Thanks to the people of Antioch, 50 needy kids, who might not ordinarily get the opportunity to see a major league baseball game, will get their chance.

Along the Way with Annie Mae

Well, school is out - and the bustle of summer has started. On Friday and Saturday there was quite a crowd at the pool. That's the place to be in the warm weather.

Congrats to TONY LOMMA and his new BRIDE who said their vows on Sunday, June 4 at St. Peter's. Tony is the younger member of TONY & LILL'S.

A little excitement Saturday night kept our Antioch Police busy. Seems a couple of guys climbed the water tower... They were "booked" for disorderly conduct, so I don't recommend this stunt to anyone.

We have many birthday wishes to make this week. A belated one goes to RICHARD ZALATORIS and to MARIAN BARNETT on the 2nd. Coming up birthdays are; LOUISE JOHNSON on the 9th; TOM BANWART on the 10th; MARCIA SHEEHAN and MARK ZALATORIS on the 12th; and JEFF SCHMIDT and RICHARD KENNEY on the 13th.

Lots of Anniversaries too: Belated anniversary wishes go to that lovely couple DR WILLIAM & LILLIE PETTY on the 3rd. Special wishes with a hug go to WARREN AND RAMONA SHEEHAN on the 8th. On the 11th MR & MRS JOSEPH E HORTON add another year of wedded bliss, as do MR & MRS ERNEST GLENN and BARB AND JOE RUSH on the 13th.

The old favorite ARSNIC & OLD LACE will be beginning on June 17th at the PM&L Theatre. Make your reservations now.

Get Well wishes can be sent to Victory Memorial Hospital where RUDY ECKERT and JIM QUEDENFELD are patients. Also get well wishes go to MARTHA BARNETT who is convalescing following a broken hip.

Today is the day RONALD & MARLENE PETERS and FAMILY will be moving to Arizona. We'll miss them. They both are graduates of ACHS, and have lived in the Antioch area for many years. Good luck in your new job, Ron...

If your car needs washing, this weekend, bring it over to Phillip 66 where the BABE RUTH boys will be holding a car wash to help the baseball league raise funds.

Be sure to vote between 12 noon and 7 P.M. on Saturday, June 10 for the High School Referendum. Let our kids know you care!!!!

See ya around the pool,

Annie Mae

TB Not A Thing Of The Past

"TB? Why, that's a thing of the past. No one gets TB anymore." "I can't possibly have TB. I've never felt better in my whole life." "Does this mean I'll have to go away to a sanatorium? What will happen to my family?"

Many Lake County citizens have grave misconceptions about tuberculosis, said Mrs. Janet Brook, Volunteer for the Local Community Survey. They seem to fall into two categories; those who believe it is no longer possible to get TB, and those who think coming down with TB means an end to a useful and fulfilling life.

Tuberculosis is certainly not a disease of the past, Mrs. Brook said. In our state in 1970 there were 2,292 new active cases reported and although this is about a 40 percent decline over the number of cases reported just 10 years ago, it is still a substantial figure.

Because TB is often symptomized by loss of weight and appetite, frequent coughing, tiredness and night sweats, people forget that it is entirely possible to have TB and feel fine. That's why it is important for everyone to have a chest x-ray or a tuberculin skin test and to know and understand the results, she continued.

Perhaps the most common misconception, Mrs. Brook said, is that of a long hospital confinement being necessary. Today, with modern drug treatment, hospitalizations for

TB has been drastically reduced, and in some cases there is no need for it at all.

Last year during our visit to the Antioch Community, with our Chest X-ray unit we x-rayed 401 persons, one of these was referred to their family physician for other chest conditions, and four were referred to the clinic.

Any person 18 years of age or older is eligible to have a chest x-ray by reporting to the Mobile x-ray unit. Negative x-ray reports may be obtained by following the instructions given on the yellow slip, at the time of x-raying.

Mrs. Fred Holbert, of Antioch, is also a volunteer for the local Community survey.

Those who would like more information about tuberculosis or respiratory diseases or where to get a TB skin test are urged to call the Lake County TB & RD Association office at 623-1805, or to write them at 813 Washington Street, Waukegan, Illinois 60085.

This service is made possible by your support of the Christmas Seal Campaign.

The schedule is: Antioch Community, 910 Main Street, Antioch June 13 & 14 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. 5 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Office, 813 Washington Street, Waukegan June 26 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. 5 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

"Both credit and non-credit are still open," Moeller stated. Classes are not scheduled to begin until June 12. New full-time students and full-time students unable to register in the early registration may register on the CLC campus on Wednesday, June 7, and Thursday, June 8, according to the schedule contained in the 1972 Summer Session Schedule.

STRETCHING CANVASS ON THE FRAME.....Figure 1 shows the most important tool needed for stretching a drum tight canvas. It is a stretching pliers, which costs approximately $4.00 but is a life-time investment. The canvas should be cut 3 inches larger on all sides than the size of the stretcher frame, as in Figure 2. Gripping the canvas with the stretching pliers and pulling tight using the extension for leverage on the back of the frame, staple or tack with carpet tacks, in the order shown in Figure 3, steps 1 thru 12, or more until all sides are securely fastened. Note that tension wrinkles work out evenly to the four corners, as you progress. Figure 4 shows that staples are put in diagonally for better grip rather than stright along one thread. Trim off excess canvas flush with frame, using razor blade as in Figure 5. In Figure 6 we see an alternate method of fastening, that is the staples or tacks are securing the canvas on the back of the frame rather than on the side. This is great for paintings which are not going to be framed. Tuck the corners of the canvas in neatly and secure with staples or tacks.

Happy Stretching

"Little Barb" Co-Valedictorian

Success is not a commodity that is normally gained without perseverance, pride and character. It has been the pleasure of the staff of the Antioch News to work with just such an individual.

We refer to her as "little Barb," due not so much to her stature, as the coincidence of having two "Barbs" on the staff.

Barbara Elaine Polsgrove, a willowy and intellectual 18 year old was recently honored by the Antioch Community High School, when she was named co-valedictorian of the 1972 graduating class. She shared the honor with Miss Jennifer Hotchkiss.

Miss Polsgrove is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Wayne Polsgrove, of Antioch and earned the honor due to her high grade point average (4.92 not including her final senior grades) and her participation in many school organizations and clubs.

She was a member of the Freshmen Girls Choir, Acappella

CONSERVATION CLUB ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club, which recently conducted its annual Arbor Day exploration trip to the Kettle Moraine Forest, has announced the winners of its 1972 essay contest, the first prize being awarded to Master David Witek, 7, of Antioch, Illinois who wrote interesting detail about natural conditions he encountered on the trip. The second prize winner was Miss Nancy Harland, 10, Antioch, Illinois who also described in great detail the enjoyable day spent on the trip.

As a follow-up in its conservation efforts, the Club is sponsoring a no-cost shooting and archery instruction day beginning at 10 a.m. on June 11 at the Club grounds, three miles west of Route 83 on Route 173. For sportsmen who have no previous experience in shotgun target practice or archery, instructors will be available at no cost and for those who do not have their own shotgun or shells, these will be provided by the Club.

The purpose of this event is two-fold; i.e., to expand public interest in conservation and to promote safety in the use of sporting equipment - all are invited.

Choir during her second third and fourth years, Pep Club her first three years, Student Executive Board her freshmen year, National Honor Society during junior and senior years, participated in Forensics by her first and final year, was a member of the Drama Club her senior year, was a Vice president and Secretary of the American Field Service Foreign Exchange club during her three year membership, belonged to the Girls Athletic Association her first three years and her freshmen and sophomore years was a member of the French Club.

In addition to membership in the above organizations,

Miss Polsgrove gained a third place at the district Forensics competition in dual acting with Betty Waters which qualified her for the state division. She also wrote the column, "Sequoit Smoke Signals," a journal of school events, for this publication.

Miss Polsgrove plans to attend Illinois Wesleyan University, in Bloomington and while undecided on a major favors Sociology.

Her thoughts about the four years at Antioch were best summed up by Mr. James Corrigan, senior english instructor: "the importance of education is to learn to make your own opinions and to accept those of others."

Miss Polsgrove will continue as a member of our staff until she begins her college career in September. We know she will succeed in any endeavor she may choose.

Dems Plan Giant Picnic

Lake County's Democrats are planning a big picnic to be held at the Serbian Monastery on Route 63, North of Libertyville on Sunday, July 9, from 2 to 6 p.m. The picnic, billed as a "Democratic Family Day", will be the first affair of its kind held by the Democrats in recent years.

Jean Montrimas of Lindenhurst is Chairman of the event. "We are," she said, "hoping to appeal to the whole family, grown-ups and children alike - with volley ball, pony rides, games, balloons, ice cream, hotdogs, bratwurst, beer and soda pop - and a real, old fashioned Dixieland band."

Tickets are available from Jean Montrimas in Lindenhurst (telephone 356-3147) or from the Lake County Democratic Central Committee in Waukegan (telephone 244-2870), for a donation of $1.50 (children under 12 will be admitted free).

In commenting on the event, Herbert L. "Hub" Stern, Chairman of the Lake County Democratic Central Committee, said, "We expect this to be the greatest gathering of Democrats since the big 'There's Room for Everybody'

Shirley Jensen as Abby and Bob Bundy as Jonathan in a rehearsal scene from PM & L's next production, "Arsenic and Old Lace." The last show of Season 11 will open on June 17.

Arsenic & Old Lace Finishes Season 11

The last play of PM&L's Season 11 is the hilarious comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace", which has just a twist of mystery involved and several corpses of various identity. It will be given June 17, 23, 24, 30 and July 1, at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch, Illinois. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Reservations are coming in well, so reserve your seat now by calling 395-9702. Seating is limited.

Many new faces will be seen in the cast of "Arsenic and Old Lace": Mortimer Brewster, the only sane Brewster, is played by Bill Simpson from Wildwood. Bill is a Warren High School graduate where he was in several plays. After service in the Marine Corps he entered CLC and had roles in "Trojan Women", "The Mad Woman of Chaillot", and as Petruchio in Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew".

The sinister role of the "black sheep" brother, Jonathan Brewster is played by Bob Bundy from Fox Lake. Bob is a speech and theatre graduate of Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana. He played in several college productions such as "Dr. Faustus", "Marat/Sade", "La Ronde", and "Solid Gold Cadillac". He was active in the Muncie Civic Theatre where he was in "Finian's Rainbow". Just recently he was technical director for "Oliver!" at Big Hollow Junior High School.

Frank Harnish from Grayslake, Director of drama at CLC, will portray the Rev. Dr. Harper. Mr. Harnish has his Masters of Arts degree from the University of South Dakota with two years additional study at the Universities of Minnesota and Indiana. He has directed at least 120 plays and designed sets for 60. His script for "Where But In America" received the first award from the National Freedom Foundation.

Other newcomers are Fred Shkapich from Antioch who plays Mr. Witherspoon, director of Happy Dale; Russell

Matthews from Antioch as Officer Brophy, and George Blanksten, a political science instructor at Northwestern University and recent resident of Antioch as Officer Klein.

Come see a great cast in a beautifully written, laugh provoking play by Joseph Kesselring and directed by Ken Smouse.

P.S. It's family type entertainment

Social Notes

by Del Jahneke

Memorial Day weekend was a care-free, camping expedition for the junior Ed Jahneke family and the Jerry Shatley family, both of North Main Street, Antioch. The two families drove to the Black River Falls State Park in mid-western Wisconsin. Here they discovered nature at its loveliest and completely unspoiled by "civilization" as yet! Giant trees abounded with thick, green foliage, and through it all winds the picturesque Black River with smaller creeks branching from this river. Although the water is actually black (hence the name) it is clear and clean, with a sandy bottom. Bathing and swimming in the shallow sections were a delight to all, and most refreshing! They climbed a tall forestry tower to view the surrounding terrain with its tremendous rocky cliffs, wooded areas and winding rivers. Many deer roamed through the forest—don't say they don't know when the deer hunting season starts! They saw many other wild animals of a smaller variety. All agreed it was one of the finest short vacations in the "wilderness" they had ever enjoyed!

Mrs. John Hagen, Mrs. Earl Horton, Mrs. Frieda Wertz, Mrs. Wayne Jones, and Mrs. Ida Wysoglad, all members of the Lakeside Rebekah Lodge 82 in Antioch, attended the District Officers' Night at the Libertyville's Rebekah Lodge, on June 1. The Lakeside Rebekah Lodge will hold its regular meeting on June 7 at 8 p.m. at the Antioch American Legion Home. Mrs. Clarence Larson, Noble Grand, will conduct the meeting.

Mr. Wonderful

Going out to dinner at a fashionable restaurant poses many problems and can bring back a memory or two that was less than laughable at the time.

Who can forget the embarrassment of being "eyed" as the only person present without a sport coat, or the discomfort of a highly starched tab collar.

Questions too were brought up by the prospective patrons. "How much should I tip?" "Will the kids behave?" "Should I buy a new dress?" Then came the final indignity, asked in hushed tones after dropping a napkin - "What fork do I use?"

These questions, and others have faced countless people intent on having a good time, but apprehensive and uncomfortable in plush surroundings. However, an alternative does exist.

Steve and Beverly Rzyzko recently purchased Stanley's Oakland Resort and renaming it "MR. WONDERFUL'S" have committed themselves to retain the rustic, casual atmosphere, while recapturing the flavor of the shady restaurant.

The restaurant is surrounded by trees and sits on the crest of a hill overlooking sloping lawns and a wide, clean beach. Dotting the lawn are several picnic tables with nearby gas lamps that cast a soothing glow as dusk approaches.

Dining at "MR. WONDERFUL'S" is pleasant and casual. Steve and Beverly serve a basic selection of sandwiches and offer four specials. Wednesday is "spagetti night," Friday has a "fish bonanza," while the weekend nights are filled with chicken, and a Polish sausage and sauerkraut special.

The food is given a distinctive flavor by the newly installed gas-fed barbecues.

Steve, a former marine and long time area resident, had raked leaves for one of the resort's early owners and so understands the balance between a casual dinner and a "night on the town."

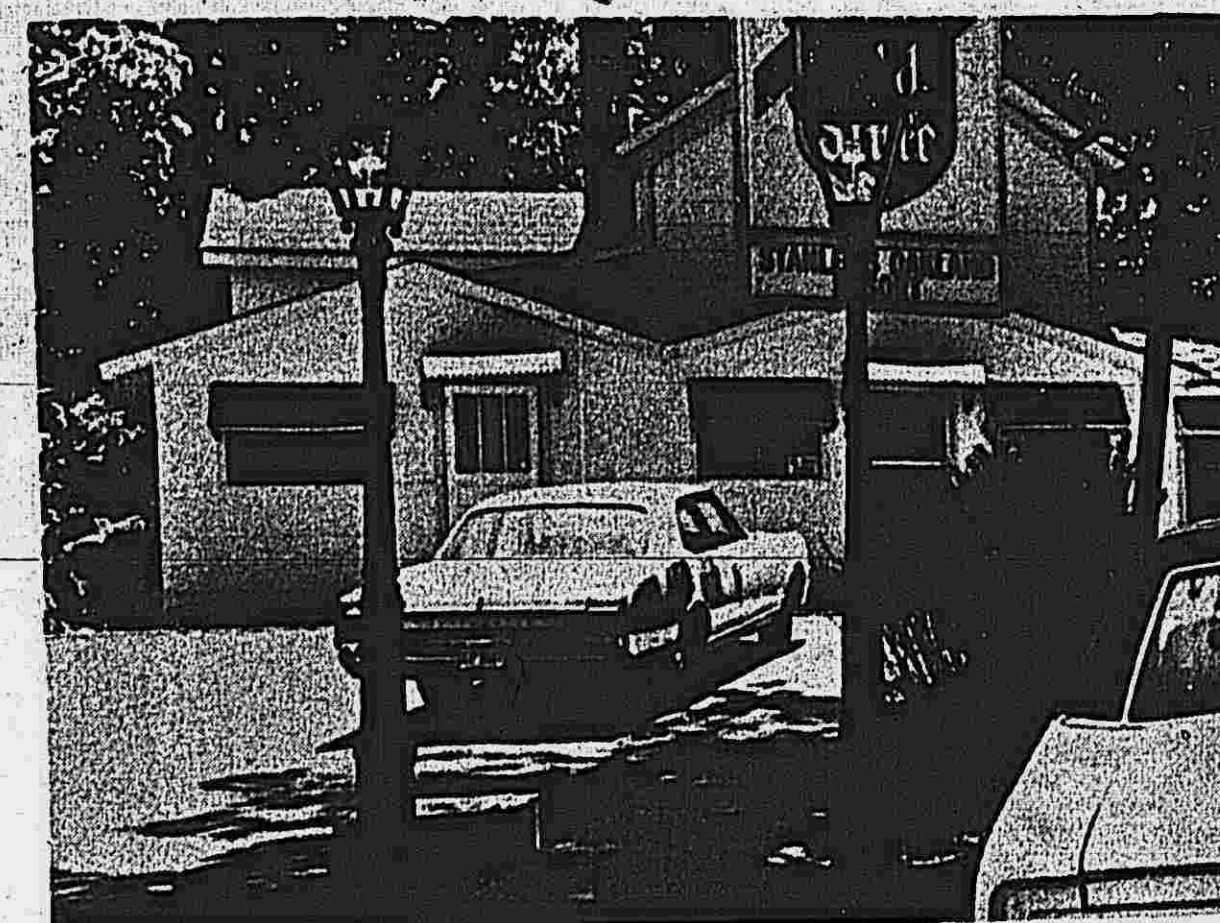

Adjoining the restaurant is "MR. WONDERFUL'S" bar. The new owners have kept a very simple and satisfying selection of beverages on hand.

If you are interested in discovering a pleasant resort restaurant where casual dress is the uniform of the day and the food is satisfying without being lavish, try "MR. WONDERFUL'S".

With a Stern Eye

Our annual Memorial Day picnic, with a history of 23 sun-filled years behind it—came upon hard times this year. The morning dawned grey and unfriendly; at eleven, under threatening clouds, the boys put out the bags to mark bases and set up the badminton net. A few hardy souls arrived at 11:45 a.m., looking apprehensively over at the ominous sky. And by 12:30 we were standing three or four deep at the grills, the rain cascading over our shoulders onto the hamburgers, and diluting the open ketchup. The rented ponies looked depressed by the turn of events.

A plucky group found shelter in the garage with one of the barrels of beer and a number of others huddled wretchedly in our breakfast room, taking turns at the Cribbage board and the various puzzles that had been drummed out for the occasion. But the conversation was good, and there was plenty of time for it.

"Do you think we have Congressman McClory to thank for the weather?", asked someone. "I mean we used always to have the picnic on the 30th, but this year, thanks to his Monday-holiday bill, here we are, drowning dismally on the 29th."

There was a fair amount of chuckling over that as it was chiefly a Democratic crowd. "Hard to say until we see what tomorrow will be like," answered someone else, with a fetish for fair-play.

"Are you getting a lot of new registrations, now that the excitement of the Primary is past?" asked Ron Orner, who was toweling himself briskly and shaking like a wet dog.

"You bet," I said. "We're up to about 168,000 now and no end in sight. We've been doing the High School belt again this Spring, sending in a team of registrars to each high school in the County. Got better than 100 youngsters in Antioch, for instance, which is way ahead of what we did last year."

"Are you going to have a booth at the Fair again this summer?"

"Yes. And we are in the process of designing a brochure to hand out which deals with how to register, and how to vote, and how to keep your permanent registration valid. We're going to call it 'All you ever wanted to know about Voting but were afraid to ask.' There were a couple of hoots and catcalls. "Well, I think it's a fine title," I said defensively.

"When are they going to start making Permanent Registration really permanent?" asked Ron. "You have to register all over again if—" and like a good registrar that he is, he ticked them off on his fingers: "—if you move outside the county, if you change your name by marriage or in a court of law, if you don't vote for four years and you get cancelled out—"

"It's only permanent if you keep the same name and live at the same address forever," said a voice from the corner who proved to be another registrar on holiday.

"As a matter of fact," I said, warming to my favorite futuristic vision, "I imagine some day they'll have a huge computer located somewhere in the country, and every time you move from one state to another, or one county to another or one address to another—or even if you change your name—you'll only have to notify some central agency and everything will automatically get changed. No more of this county-by-county stuff, each clerk with his own empire. Do you know that you can't get a marriage license in one county of Illinois and be married in another?" But this bunch was not interested in the intricacies of marriage licensing.

"Why don't you do something about that?"

"Who, Me?" I said. "What do I know about computers? It's all I can do to get the hang of input and output."

"But that's all there is to get the hang of. Anything you put into it you can get out of it. Once the data is in it, on tape or on disc or whatever, you can get it back in any form you want."

"I've been doing some research into our systems and procedures for a seminar that we're giving to the new County Board members, and it looks as though one of these days we'll be able to have all of our voters registration on tape. We've got four of the eighteen townships done already, and the Vital statistics records too. In 1980 maybe, we'll be able to send out a letter to every seventeen-year-old in the county just by pushing a button, and the letter will remind him that he is about to be eighteen and that he can go to this-and-such a place to get registered."

"It seems to me that a professional poll would use that system to send out birthday cards on a regular basis, personally signed along with the daily mail."

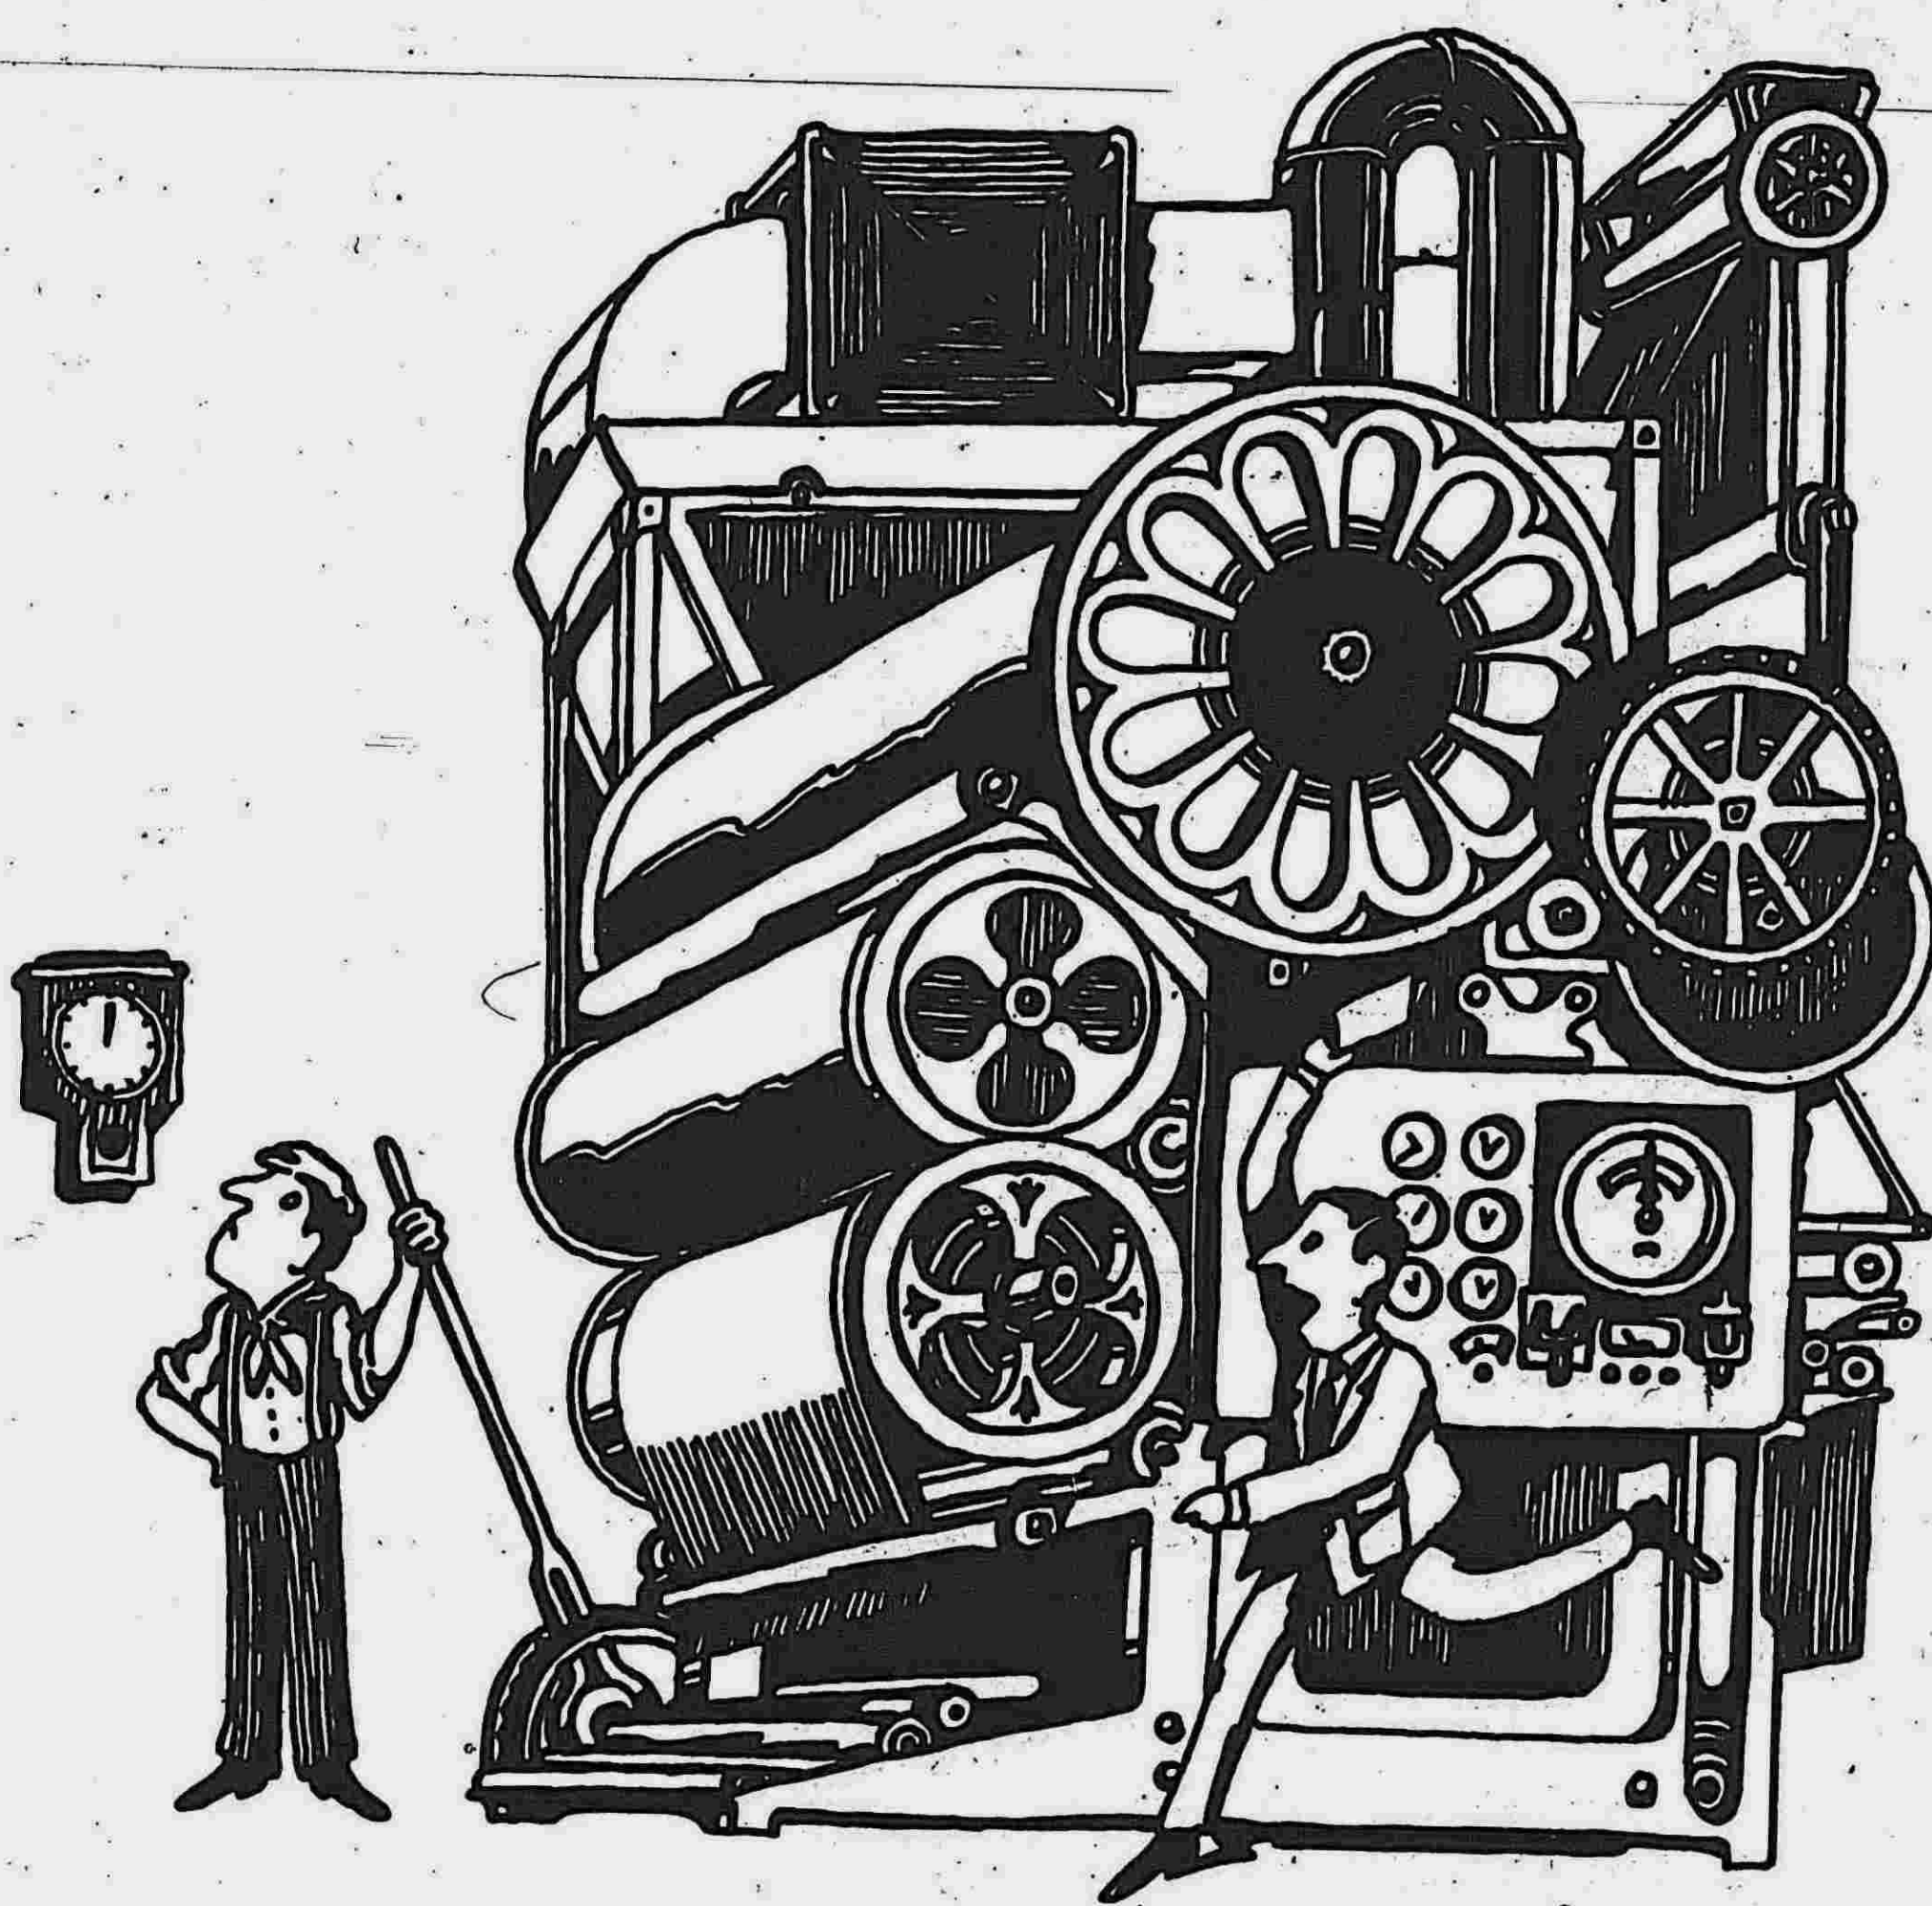

"Hey," shouted an unknown child who had been whimpering softly in the kitchen, "the sun's out. Look!" The cards and the cribbage board and the towels were abandoned in a dash for the door. And my Central Data Bank was forgotten in the surge for the volleyball and frisbee...

Christian Science

What an understanding that God protects mankind will be brought out at Churches of Christ, Scientist, this Sunday.

In the Scriptural readings in the Bible Lesson-Sermon on "God the Preserver of Men" we read from Matthew 5, Jesus said "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for their's is the kingdom of heaven".

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read: "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you."

Of the 8,600 known living species of birds, parakeets are among the most popular as household pets. They are easily the most talkative. In fact, one parakeet is said to have a vocabulary exceeding 500 words.
Budgerigars, also known as as budgies or shell parakeets are considered the most popular parakeets to keep as pets, probably because they are the most talkative.

Originally natives of Australia, these slender, long-tailed birds measure about 7 1/2 inches long.

During the process of domestication, more than 60 distinct color varieties have become established. Each has been bred to a purestrain by selective breeding. The wild Australian parakeet was green.

Most parakeets, particularly if acquired young (around six weeks old) can learn to talk quite well.

A few develop astounding vocabularies. The most loquacious I have heard of was owned by a woman in England, with a reported vocabulary of 531 words, including the word "chatter-box".

When teaching a young parakeet to talk it is best to keep it out of hearing distance of other parakeets. Or else, abandon all efforts for the bird to imitate the human voice.

It is best to patiently repeat over and over the same word that is being taught. Speak more slowly than normal. Parakeet have a tendency to speed up words when they repeat them.

As soon as one word is learned, teaching can begin on another.

Parakeets can also be taught to do various tricks.

They will become very tame with careful handling.

Birds that have been bred in captivity for many generations such as canaries and budgeri-gars, are quite simple to care for.

While many pet owners keep their birds in ordinary wire cages, these tend to be rather drafty.

I would recommend keeping the bird in a box type of cage - closed on three sides, top and bottom, and with wire only in the front.

Paint the inside with a light color non-toxic paint, such as used for painting baby's toys.

No matter what type of cage is used, it should have a bottom that is easy to remove and clean without the danger of the bird escaping. Food and water containers should be easy to clean.

Since parakeets are fond of chewing on everything they reach, their perches should be of the hardest wood available.

Never use metal pipes. They are bad for the bird's feet.

Perches made from wooden dowels can also lead to foot troubles. They are too smooth for secure footing and of the same diameter and curvature.
This forces the bird to always bend its toes in the same way.

Many veterinarians, especially those who specialize in the care of birds, recommend perches made from natural twigs or branches cut from trees such as fruit trees, elm, ash, maple, willow or nut trees.

Branches provide a much better natural perch. They give the parakeets a variety of diameters to grip and are rough enough for sure footing.

It is a good policy to do the feeding, watering and cleaning at the same time each day.
Birds become quickly accustomed to routine. They may be disturbed if these operations are performed at unpredictable times.

Remember to move slowly and deliberately around birds.
Don't make loud sounds as birds are easily frightened by unaccustomed movement or sound.

Many seed eating birds, including parakeets, will suffer from malnutrition because their owners are unaware that their seed cups are filled with empty husks, which the birds will not eat even when hungry.

Sundry Interests Keep Wendy Busy

ANTIOCHIAN ENTERTAINS NC

Antioch's own Wendy Jensen was recently featured in the ncChronicle, college newspaper at North Central College where Wendy is a sophomore. A 1970 graduate of Antioch Community High School, Wendy was active in many ACHS activities and has obviously continued her academic and extra-curricular achievements at NC.

Melissa Ratelke

It's hard to find a multi-talented person in this specialized age, but North Central has one; a female, no less! A woman of many faces, Wendy Jensen, a sophomore, from Antioch, Illinois, not only plays inter-collegiate volleyball, basketball, and tennis, but also maintains a 3.9 average.

Although this is her first year on the tennis team, and she still follows through her swing on her black and blue arm, Wendy has won all her matches and shows promise.

A P.E. major, Wendy has also proven her capabilities in the field of academics. She was recently initiated into the Psi Alpha Sigma organization for high scholastic attainment for a freshman.

As treasurer for CUAB, Wendy is interested in their activities. Formerly with the New Creation, Wendy likes to sing and has displayed her talent at Coffeehouse.

Outside of school-related activities, Wendy is the type of person who lives up dorm life. Her neighbors across the hall couldn't make it to class if it weren't for her rooster call at the crack of dawn. Among her favorite dorm activities are shaving cream and shower fights. She is also one of the few lucky females able to hang Burt Reynolds on their wall.

The guys might remember the time she threw the potted palm out Rall's third floor window during one of their infamous panty raids.

Although occasionally dressed as the NC Cardinal, you can usually find Wendy appearing as a mild mannered student with short blonde hair, jogging from the Science Center to the dorm, to the Fieldhouse, tennis racket in hand.

Channel Lake Chatter

by Louise Gutowski

School is out, graduations are over and parties have been held all over our area.

The parties began over the Memorial Day weekend with a large picnic at Mike and Mary Jo Zeien's home on Sunday. The weather cooperated to help the group of over 60 adults and children have a great day.

On Monday John and Margaret Runyard entertained over 90 people to swimming, games and a delicious buffet supper to celebrate daughter Terry's eighth grade graduation.

Graduation was held on Wednesday May 31 at the Antioch Upper Grade School. Congratulations to all our graduates and good luck to you all in your next four years of high school.

On Wednesday evening Rich and Kathy Behren's entertained 35 relatives and friends at their home to celebrate son David's graduation.

Also entertaining on Wednesday evening to celebrate their daughter Julie's graduation were Louise and Joe Gutowski.

On Thursday, the staff at Channel Lake Grade School said good-bye to their students and treated themselves to lunch at the Colony House in Trevor Wisconsin. Enjoying a delicious lunch were teachers Marge Girten, Peggy Zurek, Shiela and Bob Eisen, Jean Soby, Betsy Houghton, Mary Grov, principal Walt Soderman along with teacher aid Sally Zupan and cook Louise Gutowski. All wished each other a happy summer and a reunion back at Channel Lake in August.

On Saturday the parties began again with a swimming party for 20 fellow graduates at Terry Runyard's home.

The Bjork home was busy place last Sunday when about 80 guests enjoyed swimming and games plus a delicious buffet dinner to help celebrate daughter Judy's eighth grade graduation. Among the guests were Judy's Aunt Martha and daughters from Costa Rica and Bob and Marlene Bolton and family from Zion, Illinois. The Boltons are former Channel Lake residents.

Edie Teslow celebrated her birthday on Friday and Saturday with bowling, going out for pizza and a slumber party for three girlfriends. Happy Birthday, Edie.

Joe and Louise Gutowski, along with Lou Portalski spent the Memorial Day weekend at the boat races in Decatur, Illinois. Joe had a rough working weekend as he was referee for the two day race.

Journeying to Charleston, Illinois on Saturday, May 27 were Pat and Dick Harland and son Mike. The Harlands traveled the distance to watch Gary Mandehr compete in the state track meet where he finished fourth.

Ray Enzenbacher was hospitalized last Friday at Downey Veteran's Hospital awaiting surgery. I'm sure cards and visits would be greatly appreciated.

Congratulations to Mark McKinney on his graduation from Whitewater College in Wisconsin.

Troop 92 Has Busy Months

April and May have been busy months for Troop 92 of Antioch.

Early April saw two patrols from Troop 92 win second place ribbons at the Lakes District First Aid Meet.

The last weekend in April was spent at Galena, Illinois, attending the Annual U.S. Grant Pilgrimage. Thirty-eight scouts under the leadership of Scoutmaster Norm Edwards, assisted by Asst. Scoutmaster George Bury, Camping Chairman Lloyd Banwort and Committeemen T. Aschbacher, S. Guerra, C. O'Brien, A. Doty and R. Reband, camped at nearby Apple River Canyon during the weekend. Saturday morning the troop joined over 10,000 scouts from the midwest in visiting various sites in the historic town. The boys also participated in a parade in the afternoon. The number of boys attending the campout was the largest in the history of Antioch scouting.

The troop held its spring Court of Honor at the Scout House May 16th. John Rosquist received his Life Scout Badge, Sesa Guerra, Joe Green and Ralph Sander their Star Badges and Graham Bury and Tom Banwort their 1st Class badges. Eight scouts attained the 2nd Class Rank and eleven new "tender feet" were inducted into the troop. Many merit badges were also presented.

Troop 92 camped at Gander Mountain last weekend through the courtesy of Mr. Strassheim, the operator of the ski area. Thirty four boys used the beautiful weekend to pass various outdoor requirements. Saturday evening was spent atop Gander Mountain attending our astronomy session. Mr. John Spindler and Mr. Timothy Spindler of the Northwest Suburban Astronomical Society set up two 6 inch Newtonian Reflecting Telescopes which permitted the boys to have a first hand look at the craters of the moon, an excellent view of Venus, as well as star clusters, etc. Mr. Timothy Spindler then gave an interesting talk on various constellations, novæ, meteorites, etc. The boys were very interested in the presentation and asked many questions. The view of the lunar surface was so clear that some of the boys thought that they were looking at a photographic slide made at some sophisticated observatory and it took some doing to convince them that they were seeing the "real thing".

The boys plan to set up a typical camp-site at the OrchardShopping Plaza on June 10 and will demonstrate various facets of scoutcraft throughout the day.

Albert F. Gruidl Receives Degree

Approximately 1050 students, who are enrolled in courses which will complete their requirements for graduation, participated in spring commencement ceremonies at Eastern Illinois University.

Dr. Gilbert C. Fite, who was formally installed as Eastern's fourth president in brief ceremonies preceding commencement, delivered the charge to the class. Fite assumed the presidency on September 1, 1971.

A Bachelor of Science in Education degree was awarded to Albert F. Gruidl of Antioch.

Clever Clovers Show

On May 25, Antioch Clever Clovers 4-H Club held the first achievement program to show their parents and friends what they have learned in 4-H. All girls gave demonstrations in baking or stitchery.

The Clever Clovers greatly appreciate the use of Antioch Methodist Church facilities. The Clever Clovers are now busy preparing their exhibits for the Lake County Fair.

Pie Boasts Sweet-Tart Flavor

Sour cream has been a treasured cooking ingredient in Central and Eastern European kitchens for generations. These days more and more Americans are discovering the subtle flavor distinction that this dairy product gives to dishes of all kinds. In a lemon cream pie, for example, the addition of sour cream adds richness and gentle tart goodness to the smooth corn starch custard base.

Sour Cream Lemon Pie

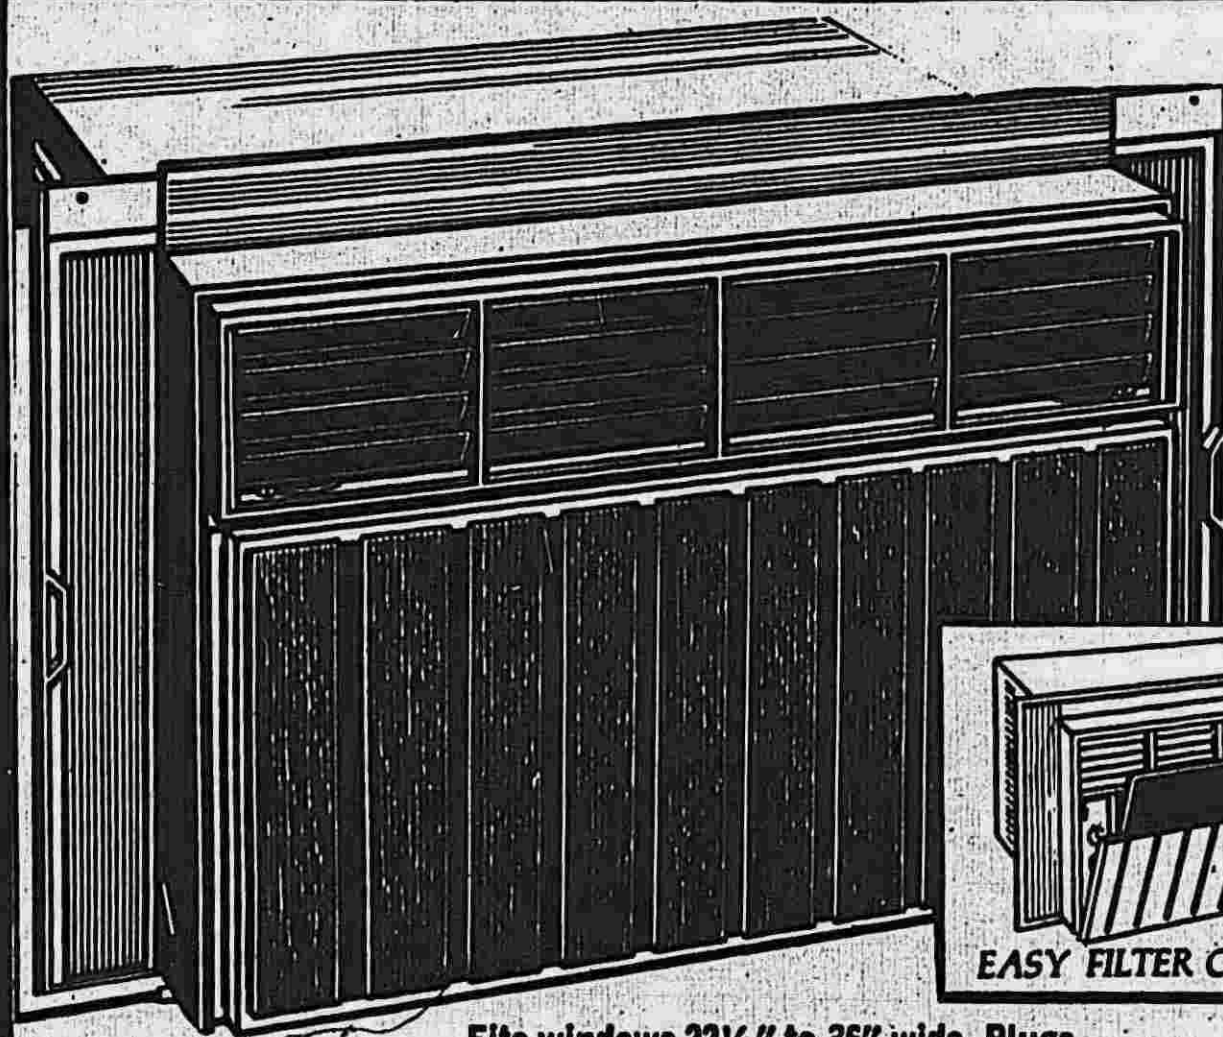

- | | |
|-------------------------------|------------------------------|
| 1 baked (9-inch) pastry shell | 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 1 cup sugar | 1/3 cup lemon juice |
| 1/4 cup corn starch | 1/4 cup margarine |
| 1 1/4 cups milk | 1 cup dairy sour cream |
| 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten | Whipped cream, optional |

Mix sugar and corn starch in 2-quart saucepan. Gradually add milk, stirring until smooth. Stir in egg yolks, lemon rind and lemon juice until well blended. Add margarine. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and boils 1 minute. Pour into bowl. Cover surface of pudding with waxed paper or plastic film. Chill. Fold in sour cream. Turn into baked pastry shell. Chill. Serve with whipped cream if desired. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Helpful Hints

IF YOU'RE A BRIDE-TO-BE planning a new kitchen, here's a list of kitchen utensils you'll use almost every day: A set of measuring spoons, set of measuring cups for both dry and liquid measurements, set of mixing bowls, a flour sifter and a strainer. Don't forget knives for paring, slicing, utility and bread. Include a rotary beater, wooden spoon and a long-handled fork on your list. A spatula, pancake turner, slotted spoon, ladle, tongs and a potato masher will all come in handy. You'll need a chopping board, funnel, graters, colander, pastry brush, minute timer, potato peeler, can opener, bottle opener and corkscrew. You'll also need saucepans with covers in 1-, 2- and 3-quart sizes and baking dishes or covered casseroles in 1- and 2-quart sizes. A double boiler, a heavy skillet or frying pan with a cover, a roasting pan with a rack, cake pans in round, square and tubular styles, pie pans, baking sheets, coffeemaker, toaster and a salad mold will also help make meal preparation easier for the new homemaker.

Go-Kart Racing In Lake Geneva

Lake Geneva, Wis.—Bob Peterson was a third place finisher when the white flag came out at the Lake Geneva Raceway on Saturday night in the new format of HATO Stock Car Racing. However, when the checkered fell, Peterson was in front and the winner of one of the most competitive races for the Sportsman stock cars ever run off at Lake Geneva.

On the fifth lap, Gil Shilts, Delevan, moved into the lead from his back starting spot. Ken Hinzpeter, Twin Lakes caught and pressured him from the 7th lap on and took the lead on the 21st lap only to have Shilts push back in front on the next lap. From then on until the last half lap, Hinzpeter used every trick to go around either outside or inside of Shilts.

Shilts masterfully kept his Plymouth in command but on that last lap Hinzpeter just kept pouring it on as they came off the number two turn and Shilts just had to stay right with him or give up the chance for the hard fought win. As the two cars leaned heavily on each other, it caused them to slow and Peterson shot by to lead. As they broke apart, Hinzpeter got out of control and shot sideways into a mound of sand protecting the infield light pole and dropped to 9th place in the finish. Shilts finished second with Joe Ments, Milwaukee, fourth and Ray Hummel, Elkhorn fifth. The exceptional close racing was a delight to all the fans as they cheered their favorite toward the wins in each event.

Sportsman stock car heats were won by Jack Nolan, Ken Otto, Shilts and Hinzpeter. John Fisher, Burlington, set fast time at 20.65 seconds.

In the Spectator Stocks, John Braun, Hebron was again the feature race winner ahead of Sam Grubb and Charles Clark.

Go-karts raced with John Duvall winning each heat. Starting next Saturday night, open competition go-kart racing will be held with the Sportsman and Spectator stock car divisions.

Purse money for these two divisions has been raised to $1250.00. Late model stocks are no longer racing at Lake Geneva Raceway and this has made the boost in purse to the others possible. Some late model stocks changed to sportsman stock car type tires and competed in that division but did not finish well because they need experience in racing with the narrower width tires.

RIFLES SIGN UP FIVE

Five football players from the Chicago area have been signed to their rookie contracts for the 1972 football season by the Lake County Rifles professional football team.

The five are Eugene McGlory, Joliet, a 5 ft. 11 inch, 185 lb. defensive halfback who at Southwestern State, Oklahoma, twice was a college all-American selection.

Other players are Clyde Senters of Hoffman Estates, a 275 lb. 6 ft. 2 inch tackle from Iowa State who formerly played with the Des Moines Vikings; Phillip Wells, Northbrook, a highly recommended wide receiver and defensive back who played high school ball at Loyola and later at Buena Vista College, Iowa.

Also, Jim Coleman of Harwood Heights, a six foot wide receiver who played two years with the Delavan Red Devils in the Central States League; punter John Yant of Wheeling who performed for the University of Florida.

These players and approximately 100 more will meet their coach for the first time this coming Tuesday (June 13) at an 8:00 p.m. meeting with new head coach Jesse Vail. That meeting will be in the Village Green Club in Mundelein.

Cossman Repeats Victory

Waukegan, Illinois-June 4, 1972-- Jim Cossman of Waukegan repeated his Sunday night victory of Memorial Day weekend this Sunday at the Waukegan Speedway by winning the wild and wooley 30 lap late model feature.

A tremendous race was shaping up in the 25th lap when George Eckerton of Chicago spun and hit the wall beneath the starters' stand. Cossman was in the lead and ducked to the inside, but Lee Schuler of Lockport and Vern Browne of Mundelein... racing wheel-to-wheel for second... slammed into each other and skidded into the infield as Tom Jones of Northbrook, close behind in fourth, had no place to go except to hit these two.

Schuler's car went over Browne's hood damaging the front end of both cars. Schuler was out, but Browne ripped the hood and left front fender off to re-enter the race at the restart.

In the 26th lap Jones edged by Browne for second but he could not catch Cossman at the checker. Rich Kleich of Chicago, in his first start of the year here, finished in fourth place followed by early leader Al Gutche of Pleasant Prairie in fifth, Chuck Chadwick of Lake Zurich in sixth, Rich Oertel of Palatine 7th and Frank Cabrera of Schaumburg 8th. These eight cars were all on the same lap at the finish.

Cossman first took the lead on the 22nd lap from Gutche who had led from the first lap. Browne's third place finish along with fast time and third in his heat boosted to first in the point standings with 283 compared to Cossman's 282 while Schuler dropped to third with 270.

Chuck Bostick of Waukegan

squeezed out another feature win in the hobby stock class ahead of George Dukas of Zion. Ted Richter of Libertyville won the grudge race between the cars sponsored by the Lakeland Bus Co.

Racing Despite Rain

Waukegan, Illinois-June 3, 1972- Promoter Gordon Sill at the Waukegan Speedway finally got the edge on the weather Saturday night as he opened the gates in spite of a rainstorm to present his popular late model and hobby stock car racing program.

Vern Browne of Mundelein pushed his sparkling 1969 Dodge Charger to its second straight Saturday night feature win as he avoided leader Bob Delaney of Keeneyville when he spun in the 11th lap.

Browne then had to withstand several challenges by Jim Cossman, last Sunday's 100-lap winner, for the win. Tom Jones of Northbrook was back for his Kentucky racing to finish third in the main.

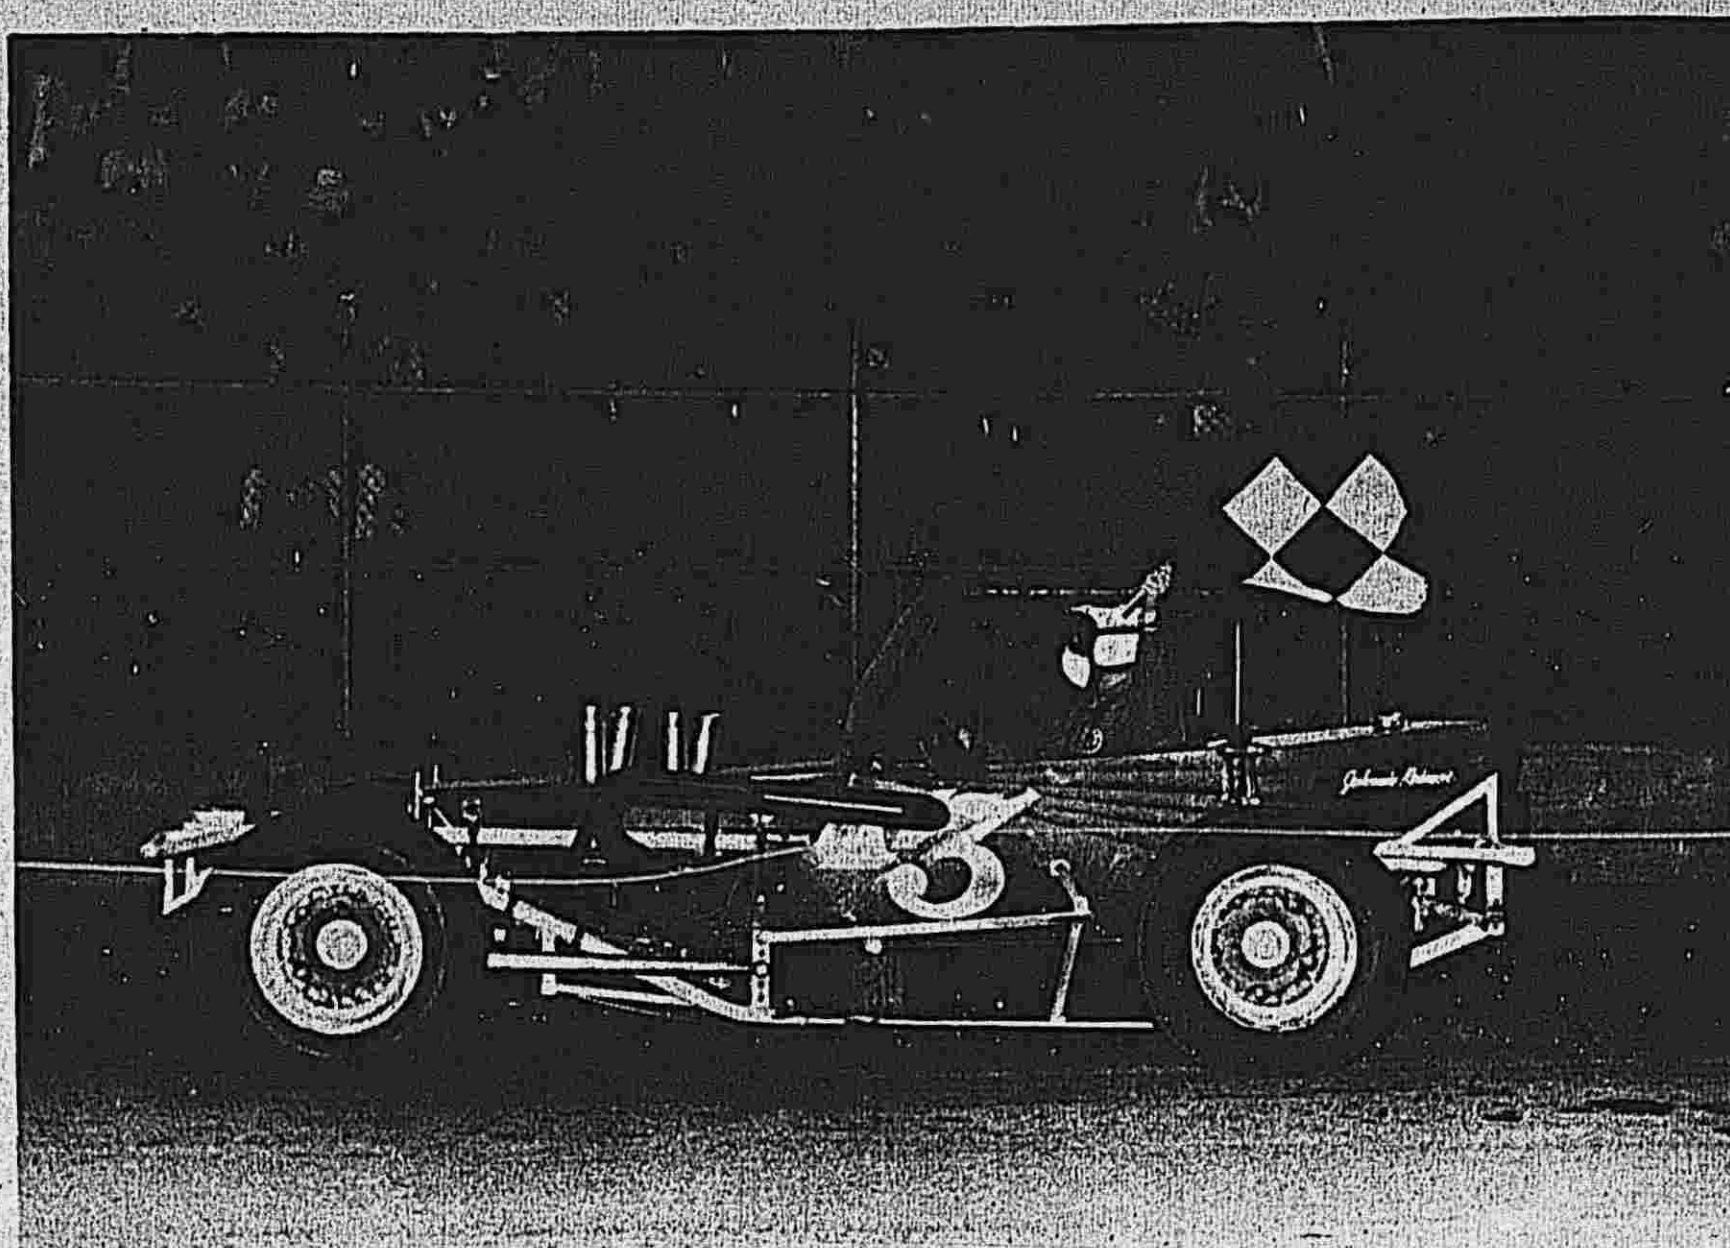

Jones in his 1970 Chevelle might have been higher in the finish, but he came to a complete stop when Delaney spun, falling to the back of the field. He restarted 8th when Lee Schuler of Lockport spun in the next lap blocking the track.

Al Gutche of Pleasant Prairie (Wis.) finished in 4th spot followed in order by Delaney, Lou Clavey of Deerfield and Herb Artelt of Wildwood... all on the same lap with Browne.

The feature got off to a bad start when Chuck Chadwick of Lake Zurich spun in the first lap as he raced out of the 4th turn. Dennis Johnson jumped over the spinning car and both hit the homestretch wall. There were no injuries, but neither car could restart. Schuler and Gutche switched for the lead in the first two laps before Delaney took over through the 10th.

Browne moved into second in the points by clocking fast time (14.75), finishing second in the dash and winning the second heat race. Schuler still leads with 252 points followed closely by Browne at 248 and Cossman with 241.

George Dukas of Zion increased his hobby point lead with a clean sweep in that

Reimer Wins IRA Award Crown Race

Lake Geneva, Wis.--On the third try tonight at the Lake class. Dukas clocked fast time with a :16.49 lap on a track still damp from rain, before winning the trophy dash, heat and feature race.

Dukas passed Abel Avila of Wauconda in the 8th lap of the hobby main for his third feature win. Ken Graham of Winthrop Harbor finished second with Chuck Bostick of Waukegan third and Avila fourth. The race was stopped in the 8th lap with five cars stalled at various points on the track.

Geneva Raceway, the IRA Triple Crown Award race was finally run off. The two previous attempts, set for the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmet, were rained out. The first was on Monday May 29 when rain washed out what would have been the third race in three days of Triple Crown Racing. The event was rescheduled for Saturday night June 3 but rain again washed out all racing at Wilmet.

Tonight, with clear skies overhead, Johnny Reimer, Caledonia, set sail and won the Triple Crown award Feature. Whitey Harris, Lake Villa, who had won the two previous features on the Crown Series Circuit last weekend, still had enough points to be declared the overall winner but missed the clean sweep when he spun off the track in oil spilled from another engine, while running fifth on the 14th lap.

Reimer took the lead from early pacesetter Roger Otto, Burlington, in the Bob Waldo modified, who had quickly moved up and around Dick Aissen, McHenry.

Ron Bergsma, Richmond, stayed right on Otto's bumper and moved around to take second place. Behind Otto in the third, it was Denny McKay, Elgin, Bob Layland, Crystal Lake and Larry Leach, Elkhorn.

Earlier, McKay had set fast time and won a 10 lap heat. Other heat races were won by Harris, Paul Cameron, Round Lake and Bill Kelly, McHenry.

Joe Kristen, North Chicago, won the 15 lap semi feature.

Jack Ashenbrenner, Hales Corners, the 1971 IRA Sportsman Stock Car Champion, won the feature race in that group with the heat race wins going to Jerry Schiffler, Milwaukee; and Jim Cmelak, Okauchee.

The attendance was 1716 and the purse $1545.50. Harris continues to lead in point standings but Reimer gained ground at Lake Geneva tonight.
